The potential of 30-60-90 day plans

PROBLEM STATEMENT

- Problem: The first 90 days is a “trial period” for you as much as it is for your New Hire, and most companies do not have department- or team-specific onboarding curricula.
- Impact: “Nature abhors a vacuum: whenever people do not know the truth, they fill the gaps with conjecture.”
- Opportunity: A clear, generous 30-60-90 day plan can be your chance to introduce yourself and the team in your own authentic voice.

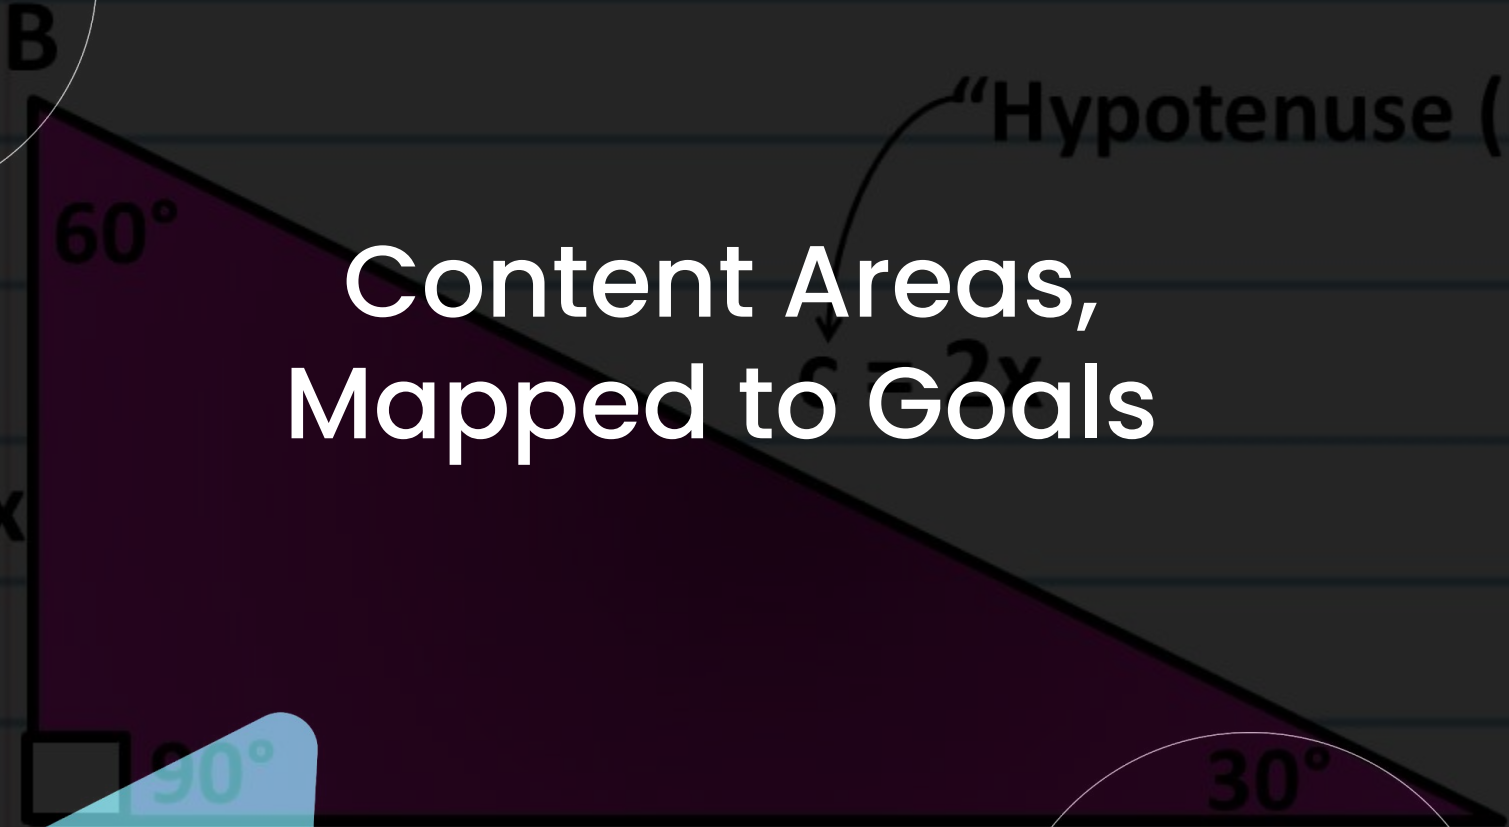

As a [NEW HIRE], I want a [30-60-90 DAY PLAN], so I can [ANSWER THESE EXISTENTIAL QUESTIONS].

- ❑ Where am I?
- ❑ Why me?
- ❑ What do I need in order to succeed?
- ❑ What does each of my team members need, and how can I help them?
- ❑ When/how do we interface with each other?

IF YOUR COMPANY ALREADY HAS A 30-60-90 DAY PLAN

- See if you can answer all the user story questions from the plan your company provides.
- Fill in missing pieces, or if your company is very formal, ways you can sneak more information in:
  - Addendum to the document
  - In the introductory email
  - Team wiki
  - Eventually, put in the work to make it official.
- Encourage your New Hire to submit corrections and additions.

IF YOU GET TO BE THE 30-60-90 DAY PLAN PIONEER

- Start simple, with 3 columns (30 days, 60 days, 90 days).
- Leave room for unexpected delays.
- Use existing company artifacts to guide the content of the rows.
- Over time, flesh out each checklist item. Let your New Hires see your work in progress.
- Perfect opportunity for developers to expand their sphere of impact.
- Genius Move: that developer is the New Hire.

90 DAY RETRO QUESTIONS

Self Assessment

1. What accomplishments am I most proud of in my first 90 days?
2. What would I like to improve? Reflect on some situations/examples of where you could have handled something better. Include obstacles/barriers that keep you from doing your best.
3. What are some goals I'd like to work on? Include skills you want to develop or enhance, or knowledge or training you want to acquire.
4. Additional comments

Manager's Assessment

1. How has the team member excelled in the first 90 days?
2. What could the team member improve on?
3. How could the team member stretch even more, and what advice or training would you recommend?
4. Additional comments
